

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Clearlake Capital-Backed Janus International, The Self-Storage Building and Facility Automation Experts, Announce the Acquisitions of Nokē, Inc. and Active Supply and Design (CDM) Ltd

Partnership With Nokē Will Further the Growth and Development of the SecurGuard® Smart Entry System

Temple, GA Dec 13, 2018 – Janus International Group, LLC (“Janus”), the leading global manufacturer and supplier of turn-key building solutions and new technology for the self-storage industry, today announced the acquisition of Nokē, Inc. (“Nokē”) the creator of high tech smart locking solutions. The acquisition will allow both companies to continue to develop and enhance the SecurGuard® Smart Entry System that was released earlier this year. The Smart Entry System has modernized access control in self-storage by allowing tenants mobile access to their unit, gates, man-doors, and elevators. With an electronic lock on every unit door, the system provides peace of mind for both tenants and operators along with unprecedented individual door security.

Janus also announced today the acquisition of Active Supply and Design (CDM) Ltd (“ASD”), one of Europe’s top installers and self-storage systems solutions providers. The combination of Janus’ European operations and ASD will continue to develop, manufacture and install market leading solutions for the international self-storage market. The combined organization now offers a full suite of solutions for operators and builders of self-storage facilities, including the SecurGuard® Smart Entry System.

David Curtis, Founder and CEO of Janus said of the acquisitions, “We’re very excited to have Nokē and ASD join the Janus family, and are thrilled about the innovative solutions we’ll be providing to the self-storage industry on a global scale. All three companies will continue to serve and support our customers with high quality products and solutions to help them build and operate their businesses more efficiently.”

“We’re thrilled to reinforce our partnership with Janus, and we’re excited to offer facility owners globally a more robust and high tech security solution for their facilities, while increasing their visibility, connectivity, and control over their business,” said David Gengler, Co-founder and CEO of Nokē.

José E. Feliciano, Co-Founder and Managing Partner, and Colin Leonard, Partner, at Clearlake added, “We are pleased to bring Nokē and ASD under the rapidly growing Janus platform. David Curtis and his team have consistently demonstrated an ability to grow Janus by delivering innovative new products and technologies to its customers.”
